COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Over the past ten years, the aviation industry has grown at a rapid pace, with many new start-up airline carriers and many new flight routes developed. Along with the development in regional airports, this has created a strong demand for a new, flexibly-skilled workforce. This course provides an all-round introduction to the aviation industry for those who wish to enter or further their careers in one of its many occupational areas. These include roles in airports such as; passenger liaison, ramp work, cargo operations and ground handling, along with roles that may be seen as 'traditional' airline jobs, such as cabin crew and customer service.

It is a work-related course that prepares you for employment and provides a good grounding to go onto a university course such as Airport/Airlines Operations, pilot training or out to the workplace.
