In addition:

All applicants to part time courses will be offered high quality information, advice and guidance to ensure they are enrolled on appropriate courses. For selected courses, they will also be required to attend an interview.

Employers expressing interest in training for their employees will be provided with an opportunity to discuss their requirements prior to training needs analyses being undertaken.

Start dates and times for all part time provision will be published in the Part-Time Course Guide and are available on the website which is constantly updated with information on new courses.

4.2.3 Employer Engagement

The College provides a comprehensive service to employers and offers a range of training provision including Training Needs Analyses. Employers can elect for their employees to attend existing full time/part time programmes or discuss bespoke training, which can be delivered either at College or off-site on employer premises.

Employers and apprentices will be advised and will receive guidance on accredited provision, fees payable, as well as information on Apprenticeships and NVQs in the Workplace.

4.2.4 Higher Education Applications

All applicants will be invited for interview, including those received via UCAS.

If an applicant does not hold formal Level 3 qualifications, admission to a Level 4/5 (HNC/HND or Foundation degree) programme may be subject to successful completion of specific tasks, evidence of relevant work experience, portfolio examination and/or interview with a curriculum specialist.

Advice on funding for tuition fees and the student maintenance loan, subject to current funding rules, will be given as part of the interview process. If an offer is made, all candidates will be given information on how to apply through the Student Loans Company.

4.2.5 All Students

All applicants will be provided with high quality, impartial, information, advice and guidance to assist them in finding a suitable course to meet their needs. In some cases when provided with all relevant information it may be determined that enrolment at East Surrey or John Ruskin College may not be appropriate. It is expected that this will be in a minority of cases.

Applicants to courses which involve contact with children or vulnerable adults, such as Childcare, Health and Social Care and Teacher Training, will be required to have a Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check. Applicants will be notified at interview if a DBS check is required and completed forms and payment must be received before the application can proceed to enrolment. Where the DBS check indicates that the applicant has a history of one or more offences they may be refused entry to the course and alternative pathways may be suggested by the College.

Applicants for all courses are asked to disclose previous spent and unspent criminal convictions, warnings, cautions, reprimands or pending court cases at application, interview and enrolment stage. A risk assessment will be conducted by the safeguarding team before an offer is made. The nature of the conviction will be considered and an evaluation will be made as to how this may affect the security and safety of staff and students of the College. Failure to disclose previous spent and unspent criminal convictions or pending court hearings may result to instant suspension. It may also impact on suitability for some career pathways, e.g. those in public services, childcare, or the airline sector.

All applicants will be informed if a resource or tuition fee is payable and how payment will be collected.

Late applicants to courses will be considered at the discretion of the College. In these circumstances, the College will consider the prior learning of the applicant and the feasibility of the applicant catching up on late work. The College plans a series of additional full and part time courses throughout the year and late applicants may be referred to one of these.

An application may not be accepted from a student who has previously been excluded from the College for misconduct, or who failed to attend any examination, complete or achieve passes in their qualifications. These applications will be subject to the approval of the appropriate senior curriculum manager and any mitigating circumstances will be considered.

4.2.6 Cancellation of Courses

Courses may be cancelled if insufficient applications are received to make the course viable. Prospective students will be informed at the earliest opportunity if a course will not run and we will offer a suitable alternative where possible. If the College discontinues a programme, this will be a decision made by the College Executive Team, and the applicant will have no liability for fees. The college will give information, advice and guidance in helping the applicant find an alternative course. The College undertakes not to cancel long courses once students have enrolled except in extreme circumstances, although this may be necessary on short courses, for example, in adult education.

5 Appeals

All students are entitled to access further information, advice and guidance to consider their further progression. Reasons will be given to any applicant who is refused a place. In this case there is a right of appeal via the appropriate senior curriculum manager whose decision will be final.
