Dear All

Today we hosted our second police search on the East Surrey College site for this academic year and we have further events planned for the rest of the academic year. Our engagement with the police is part of an annual plan of activities that we carry out throughout the academic year with the aim of keeping everyone safe, reinforcing expectations of students and to reduce anti-social behaviour.

Today's activity involved a bag search, a knife arch, the drugs dog and an opportunity for the police to build better relationships with our students. Of those students who were searched no drugs or weapons were found. One student did have their tool kit with them, which included a Stanley knife. For information, students are not required to bring tools of this nature with them to the site.

The police will be on site regularly this year to chat to students, have been in to play football in a staff vs students vs police competition and will promote areas such as Crime Stoppers, County Lines prevention and Domestic Violence Awareness.

Yours faithfully

Dr Lindsay Pamphilon
